Saskatchewan and Alberta To Share Alike In Resources

Ottawa.—The Dominion government is now prepared to accept, in principle, the Saskatchewan and Alberta, in the settlement of the natural resources question, "treatment similar to that granted to Manitoba with respect to the continuance of Dominion subsidies."

It was stated by the prime minister that the Dominion government, having in mind negotiations now pending with the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan, and the representations of the governments of these provinces with respect to the continuance of the payments of subsidies in accordance with the terms of existing legislation, is now prepared, in accordance with the Saskatchewan, in settlement of the resources question, treatment similar to that granted to Manitoba with respect to the continuance of Dominion subsidies.

The report recommends that Manitoba should be paid the sum of $254,212 in cash as the balance due for past arrears covering the period during which the resources have been alienated. It also recommends that from now on until the population of Manitoba reaches 800,000, the province shall receive the sum of $502,500. When the population reaches 800,000, the report proposes that this amount should be increased to $750,000 per annum. Finally, when the population increases to 1,200,000, the amount payable annually will rise to $1,125,000, and remain unchanged thereafter.

Subsidies must be paid from the treasury and the country generally must provide the cash. It has been demonstrated frequently that the eastern provinces of Canada consider themselves very important parties to any settlement which is made of the natural resources question. Treatment must be fair to both east and west.

The function of the commission was to ascertain what financial readjustment should be made for the purpose of placing Manitoba in a position of equality with the other provinces of Confederation in respect to the administration and use of its natural resources. The report is the commission's answer to this question.

Canada's Forest Wealth

Will Take Inventory Of Forest Resources As Preliminary To Reforestation Plan

Ottawa.—Federal and provincial governments of the Dominion are co-operating for the purpose of taking an inventory of Canada's forest resources. George H. C. Stewart, minister of the interior, opened a conference attended by three provincial ministers, assisted by several federal and provincial officials, which will endeavor to arrive at the actual forest wealth of Canada.

In his first opening address, Mr. Stewart pointed out the importance of this step as a preliminary to reforestation plans.

To Find Solution Of Naval Problem

London, England.—Premier Lloyd George has said that he hoped before many days it would be possible to make a satisfactory arrangement of how naval disarmament negotiations were to be conducted, where a conference would be held, and the precise objects of that conference.

He was speaking at a Labor reception held at the Labor Club, London, at the same time he disclosed that he had had a second conversation with General Charles G. Dwyer, British ambassador to Great Britain, and had seen Sir George Balfour, United States ambassador to Belgium, who arrived in London to assist General Dwyer in finding a solution to what has been termed the two-English-speaking people.

Premier MacDonald, while very brief, was extremely helpful after he referred to the great political victory Labor had won and the general position of his government, remarking that there was no magic, but a sincere determination and courage to face public questions, he plunged into the subject of the naval problem.

"We have allowed, up to now, to grow under our feet. We have allowed our capacity for production to be limited by the fact that the obstacles that have been in the way of an understanding have been cleared. If I may ring the changes on an English word, by a lack of understanding of each other. The great thing which is wanted in the world today is capacity for production, different races and different nations, to put themselves in each other's shoes. That will be one of the things that we shall try to do in the conduct of these negotiations."

Crop Conditions Good

But Not Up To Last Year Says C.N. Official

Montreal.—Crop conditions throughout Western Canada, although excellent, were not generally as promising as at this time last year, said Dr. W. J. Black, director of colonization and immigration of the Canadian National Railway, who has returned from an official tour of the west. Notwithstanding this, however, conditions generally are more promising than for some years in Western cities, said Dr. Black.

There is tremendous area under cultivation this year throughout the entire Peace River country and land settlement has been going forward at an enormous rate. Settlers have even gone in large numbers far north-west as the Fort St. John district and they appear generally to be a sane lot of people.

Posthumous Award For Bravery

London.—The gold medal for bravery was conferred posthumously on Dr. Finn Malmgren, noted Swedish scientist, who died while attempting to summon aid after the Polar dirigible Italia crashed by the Arctic, a year ago. The government assigned the scientist's mother, who lives in Sweden, a pension of $500 yearly and sent her documents gathered by an official investigating commission and paying glowing tribute to Malmgren's heroism.

Eastern Labor Action

Toronto.—Frank Jones, Toronto, has taken out writs at Osgoode Hall alleging libel by means of a photograph against a local bread company and photographer. The photographs published in local newspapers represent Jones eating a sandwich on a building under construction and attempt to show the "breadwinner" derived by outdoor workers who eat this bread of bread.

Market Commentaries

Victoria.—The Hon. T. G. O'Connor, former M.L.A. for British Columbia, son of the Earl of Conyngham, has been elected to the House of Commons for the British Columbia constituency. It is understood that his main business will be to make the demand for Okanagan fruit.

Damage By Storm Cannot Be Computed

Cost Of Semi-Tornado In Montreal District Will Run Into Millions

Montreal.—The full story of the electrical storm and semi-tornado which swept down from the north, spreading death and destruction in its path from the Laurentians to the eastern tip of the island, is yet to be written. The death toll stood at 100, but the property loss, including the destruction of communication lines, is being estimated at $10,000,000. It will never be completely computed, but it is extensive and probably runs well into the millions, $1,000,000 worth of damage alone having resulted when lightning set fire to the Sacred Heart convent at St. Paul, Quebec, near here, and completely destroyed the widely known educational institution.

MAY RESUME TRADE RELATIONS WITH MOSCOW

London, England.—One of the first acts of the new Labor government has been to cable the announcement to all the Dominion governments of the British Empire that Britain intends to resume diplomatic relations with Soviet Russia in the near future.

Political observers believe the Labor ministry's move will receive sufficient support from Conservative and Liberal members of Parliament to assure approval of British diplomatic relations with Moscow.

Declares Stresemann Failure

German Foreign Minister Fined By Non-Confidence Vote

Berlin.—The German Foreign Minister, Count Stresemann, in a vigorous reply to a vote of non-confidence, said the Reichstag would not stand for the installation of a commission in the Reichstag at the price of its own existence.

When he spoke, he was introduced by the day the Nationalists introduced a motion of no confidence against the Foreign Minister, saying he was five years in the post had been a failure.

Run Running Wanes

Significant Drop In The Export Of Liquor Is Reported

Windsor, Ont.—Canadian customs returns for the current month showed a significant drop in the exports of liquor from the United States to Canada, according to reports of the United States authorities.

Imports at the one-time motorized liquor crossing point of Windsor have been cut to a fraction, according to customs patrols, while the Canadian side has been shut out of the Detroit river is more or less of an oddity these days, they say.

Considerable liquor, however, is getting through by the back door, the Trenton front, guarded by the Greyhounds of the "dry" navy, the United States coast-guard cutters, the river boats are shut out from Amherstburg into the lake and there are no government boats in adequate numbers to stand guard.

But this situation is to be remedied, according to a new amendment, more than fifty boats of all descriptions are to be in service by July 1, it was reported, running in type from lumber to the 70-foot speed boats, carrying one-man guns and armed for long chase.

Grain Drying DETAILS GIVEN TO COMMISSION

Winnipeg.—The suggestion that two standards for grain grading be set, one for grain destined for the western seaboard, and the other for west-bound cargoes, did not receive the approval of James D. Baker, chief of the grain inspection department, when counsel for the Saskatchewan Grain Producers' Association asked the commission to do so.

Technical knowledge of grain drying is not to be applied to the inspection of grain, said the standard is set by the board and it must be maintained for the use of the commission.

THE STAMPEDE
The Bassano Board of Trade staged another successful stampede and sports day last Monday. The large attendance at the halliday spread showed that the people have lost some of their enthusiasm for the stampede and carnival, and put to rest those pessimistically inclined individuals who held the opinion that the public was "fed up" with this kind of entertainment.
Yes, the stampede was a success in every way. The attendance was good—better than last year, the cash receipts were satisfactory, the crowd was pleased with the program and everybody enjoyed a good time.

ROAD DITCHES ARE DANGEROUS
The present-day method of building a graded road is to make a deep ditch on both sides of the road and heap the earth on the grade. This makes a narrow ribbon of roadway bounded on both sides by ditches three to five feet deep. One side of the ditch slopes sharply to the road way, and the other side is almost vertical.

A grade built in this manner is dangerous in wet weather. If a car is a few feet off the centre of the grade the vehicle is apt to slide into the ditch, smashing the fenders and body and perhaps turning over and injuring the occupants.
A graded road made of course, have suitable drainage on both sides. But to obtain this drainage it is not necessary to have dangerous ditches with vertical banks. These ditches could be made with gradually sloping banks. They would be just as effective for draining the roadway, there would be just as much, perhaps more earth taken from the ditch for the building of the grade and the wide ditch with sloping sides would not be dangerous like the present-day ditch with vertical sides.

CANADA OWNED BY CANADIANS
Canadians have with great concern the statements of politicians who tell us about the invasion of Canada by foreign capitalists, and about Canada being a sewer of waste and a drawer of water for our prosperous neighbors to the south.
So it is with much satisfaction that we learn, from a statement issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, that Canadian enterprise and industry is mostly owned and controlled by Canadians. Canadians, it appears, own between 25 per cent and 55 per cent of the securities of all enterprises located in Canada. The total British and foreign investment in this country is given as $2,457,042,000, of which $2,209,517,000 is credited to British investors. Canadian and British capital thus own from 75 to 88 per cent of Canadian industry.
At the same time Canadian investment in the United States amounts to $974,025,000. American capital in Canada is largely invested in government securities, the pulp and paper industry, and mining.
Says the Ottawa correspondent of the New York Times: "The Great West revealed to Canadians some knowledge of their present and potential wealth, and the habit of buying domestic securities has taken. Present national wealth is estimated to be at least five times the total of British and foreign investments, so there need be no reason for disquiet."

ANTICIPATION
(by George Frederick Cameron)
Anticipation is the oil that feeds. The flame of life. It is the glow that glows at twilight in the hollow reeds, And draws the moaning discord of despair,
Nay, now in darkest night it comes to me—
It dulls the edge of present care; Blots from the tablets of the memory What hath been ill, or is inscribing there—
In golden letters that which yet may be Of earth's good things my individual shape.
And should the days be drear in age, And disappointment part of mine estate, With Fortune I shall not a warfare wage,
But sing my song as now—as now anticipate.

IT MAY NOT BE OUR LOT TO WIELD
(writer unknown)
It may not be our lot to wield The sickle in the ripened field; Not ours to hear, on summer eves, The reaper's song among the sheaves. Yet where our duty's task is laid, In union with God's great thought, The near and future blend in one, And whatsoever is willed is done. And were this life the utmost span, The only end and aim of man, Better the toll of fields like these Than waking dream and shiftless day.
But life, though falling like our grain Like that that revives and springs again; And early called, how best are they Who wait in heaven their harvest day.

Here and There

Musical charms to soothe the savage breast, and jazz has now exerted its well-known effect on animals, since the deer at Banff have been listening to the dance strains from the orchestra at the Banff Springs Hotel. Three male deer were seen the other night listening with astonished ears to the symphony within. Both deer and elk are unusually tame this season and guests are going hunting with cameras in lieu of firearms.

Aviation is coming into its own in Canada and Canadiana are becoming thoroughly acquainted. Three airports were opened early in June at Ottawa, Kingston, and Hamilton, at which a great assembly of planes took place and large crowds witnessed the proceedings. Many took advantage of the opportunity to send mail and parcels by air express using these facilities and the Canadian Pacific Express Company used its planes to advantage.

Lock dues on parcels from Cherbourg are now lifted under an order from the French Government and there will be consequently a great increase in despatch of these parcels from France to Canada, according to word recently received by the Canadian Pacific Express Company. Prior to this, parcels from France had to be shipped from Southampton causing a loss of a couple of days' time in reaching Canada.

Plans to harbor boards totalling nearly $300,000,000 to be spent on programs of extension and developments have been approved by the House of Commons. Of this amount, ten millions each goes to Montreal and Vancouver, $5,000,000 for Halifax, and balance for Three Rivers and Chiboutim, Quebec.

The average cash income per farm house in the Prairie Provinces was $2,344, exclusive of the value of seed, feed, meat, vegetables and other commodities produced and retained by the farmer for his own use, according to the Nor West Farmer, Canadian farm journal published at Winnipeg.

Queen of Scots

In previous advertisements we have traced the progress of the art of brewing from 500 B.C. to the 13th Century when Burton on Trent became famous for its waters.

When Mary, Queen of Scots was imprisoned in Tutbury Castle, Walsingham in 1570 she furnished proof that beer was more than the drink of the commoner.

She had her secretary enquire "at what place near Tutbury beer may be provided for Her Majesty's use" to which Sir Ralph Sadler, governor of the castle, replied: "Beer may be had at Burton three mile off."

Plans To Canoe Down the Fraser

Young German Journalist To Commence Adventure on Trip

In the track of the great explorers of the Pacific coast a young German journalist is about to start an adventurous canoe journey down the Fraser and the Thompson Rivers to Vancouver. Arriving in Jasper from Edmonton where he took a preliminary canoe trip on the Saskatchewan River, Carl Schwier, of Munich, will leave for Mount Robson. He will take the water at Blue River, returning to Jasper by train. Schwier plans to explore the Athabasca and Malaga Lakes. The adventurous traveler, who has written a number of books on outdoor subjects, is also a lecturer of prominence in Germany both by radio and from the platform, and has written and produced movie scenarios of river and lake travel. By movie and still photograph and by the written and the spoken word, he will carry Canada back to Europe. Huge New Laboratory For Cancer Research

Greatest In World To Be Established in Chicago

The greatest cancer research laboratory in the world is to be established in Chicago in connection with the Cook County Hospital.

This was the announcement by Dr. Charles Mayo, of Rochester, Minn., Dr. Mayo was the only one that the institute will be in operation in July.

Edwin N. Hurley, civic leader, and former head of the United States shipping board, is to be chairman of a local board and also of a national advisory board for the clinic, the doctor said. Asked what his own part would be, he replied deprecatingly:

“I will be just a general deliverer.”

Dr. Mayo, for a year has been working to bring the plan to fruition.

A great part of the work is to be carried on by research workers at Northwestern University, Loyola, the University of Chicago and the University of Illinois. There have been conferences in preparation for the schools in cooperation for such co-operation.

All of the local committees and groups which already have taken up the cancer problem and have been interested in it will be represented on the local board,” Dr. Mayo said.

In the main the membership of the national advisory board will be made up of doctors.

Urges Research To Solve Farm Problems

Need Is Paramount Says Former Governor of Illinois

Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois, as the commencement speaker at the University of Oregon, said that research was the greatest weapon of the age with which to attack what he termed a “grave agricultural problem.”

“The history of civilization,” Lowden said, “has shown that cities and countries have gone to ruin and decay when the soil of the country had become impoverished. This and the fact that cities are drawing more and more of the most efficient people from the farm represents the problems that this country as well as all others must face.”

“Improvement of soil comes when farmers, to meet forced over head must grow the same crops year after year, year after year,” he continued, “rather than rotating as they should to enrich and preserve the soil.”

“The need for research, not only in material sciences, but in economic and social phases as well, is paramount,” Lowden asserted. “Research should extend particularly to distribution of products.”

British Aviator Is Awarded Gold Medal

Hinkler Receives Gold Medal For Flight To Australia and Back

For his gallant and heroic flight to Australia and back, Captain Keith Hinkler, of England, was awarded the international aeronautic congress gold medal for his flight from England to Australia and back, declared to reveal any further information about his plan. He said he would stay in England for the next two months before attempting the proposed flight.

President Count Vaux presented the gold medal to the famous flyer, explaining that Hinkler's flight was a “milestone in the evolution of air touring.” Hinkler was cheered by the assembly, which represented representatives from all parts of the world. He later signed his name in the federation's gold book, which contained only the names of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, Francisco de Pinedo and Sir Alan Cobham—all winners of the gold medal.

Diatomite In Canada

Diatomite is a very light, white, powdery substance, composed of microscopically small silicious shells, called diatoms, and is found in the bottoms of certain lakes or in solid beds having a granular appearance and hardness of chalk, sometimes hundreds of feet thick. There are more than 100 known occurrences of this mineral in Canada, a few of which are of sufficient size to be worked commercially.

WHERE WHITE MEN LIVE 1930 J

This Little Red Cross Outpost at Pouce Coupe, in the Far North, is the pride of the Province of Alberta. Situated 480 miles north-west of Edmonton, it is 80 miles from the end of the staid.

Formerly the buffalo and Indian held sway, but today the Pale faces are establishing themselves in splendid settlements, forging ahead with a vision of civilization that does honour to the pioneer “Pilgrim Fathers” of their ancestry.

Thanks to the Red Cross vision and extension service, this district is no longer a place where Red men live, but where “White Men Live,” for the beneficent arm of the Great Mother embraces six settlements in an area of three hundred miles.

“The matter of the air mail routes, Mr. Adhead stated, had taken up a considerable amount of time. The question of award of the contract for the East and West route, he said, was still undecided, but, he claimed, the amalgamation of three Western aviation companies into one concern, under the heading of the Great Western Airways, Limited, of Calgary, had simplified matters considerably, and had greatly increased the likelihood of a split in the main contract. “The split, if it takes place,” he said, “will make it necessary for the government to appoint a committee to investigate the matter of the mail route across the continent as far as the Canadian side is concerned, he continued. The government would in all probability take up the establishment of routes North and South. These, he pointed out, would concern the Southern Airways.”

By next spring, moreover, Mr. Adhead stated, it was very possible that everything would be ready for establishment of the final link in the Atlantic to Pacific air mail service, the route over the Rockies to Vancouver. He also stated that recent press notices had implied that this route would be from Edmonton, by way of Jasper Park. Mr. Adhead stated emphatically that his decision on that score had been reached by the government, and that a survey by the Department of Civil Aviation would take place during the summer. A number of other flying men, he mentioned, had stated to him that they favored the route from Calgary via Crow's Nest.

Holds Important Office

Britain's First Woman Cabinet Minister Well Fitted For Position

Miss Margaret Bondfield has been given an important office in the Labor Government. She is Minister of Labor and the first woman to hold Cabinet rank in any British administration. She is also a member of the Privy Council.

Miss Bondfield is a former president of the Trades Union Congress and she was one of the prominent personalities at Washington when the International Labor Conference was held there.

A valuable report on child migration in Canada was produced by Miss Bondfield in 1924, when she was parliamentary secretary of the department she now heads.

Once, when she was traveling to Australia, she visited the children of the mistresses of the house had a right to expect a “good, honest day's work.”

The appointment to Cabinet rank of Miss Margaret Grace Bondfield is of particular interest to Canadians who remember her visit to Canada in January, 1927.

She was first elected to Parliament by Northampton, which she represented in 1923-24. She has served as a thorough apprenticeship for her present Cabinet position, having been parliamentary secretary to the Ministry of Labor in the MacDonald Government in 1924. She was the successful parliamentary candidate in Walsford in 1929.

Canada led all other countries of the world by a wide margin in the production and export of newspaper paper during 1928, according to the figures of the News Print Service Bureau. Dominion production in that year amounted to 2,381,000 tons, this representing one-third of the world's and output of the Dominion equalled to 2,207,000 tons, a volume equal to those of all other countries put together.

Air Routes For Alberta

Three Are Likely To Be Established Very Shortly

Establishment of three main Alberta air routes by early next year, leading east from Calgary to Montreal, one north from Edmonton to the Mackenzie River, and one south from either Calgary or Edmonton to Coquiton, on the International border, are the chief probable developments at Ottawa in the near future, emphasized by Mr. H. Adhead, member for St. Catharines, on his return to the city.

The matter of the air mail routes, Mr. Adhead stated, had taken up a considerable amount of time. The question of award of the contract for the East and West route, he said, was still undecided, but, he claimed, the amalgamation of three Western aviation companies into one concern, under the heading of the Great Western Airways, Limited, of Calgary, had simplified matters considerably, and had greatly increased the likelihood of a split in the main contract. “The split, if it takes place,” he said, “will make it necessary for the government to appoint a committee to investigate the matter of the mail route across the continent as far as the Canadian side is concerned, he continued. Rid Mexico Of Drunk Evil

President Gil, Inaugurates Campaign To Restrict Sale Of Intoxicants

President Portes Gil's campaign to restrict the sale of alcoholic liquors has gained such momentum that it has become one of the chief topics of discussion throughout the country and one of the principal subjects of legislation.

The president's appeal to state legislatures to restrict the sale of alcoholic liquors, as well as regulating the number of saloons, Governor Raymundo Esquivel, of Chihuahua, has instructed the state legislature to establish, as a heavy tax on intoxicating drinks that their manufacture will be unprofitable. This measure, in addition to discouraging manufacture of liquor, is calculated to oblige the saloons to charge prices beyond the reach of the average citizen.

Governor Esquivel also has ordered that the saloons be forced to pay a license tax, hoping thereby to restrict the sale of liquor to those who can afford to pay it. Furthermore, he has prohibited the sale of intoxicants on ranches and in the country, which has been a long-standing practice of which proprietors of liquor have been proud. Similar, although less stringent measures have been adopted in other states and the new department has prohibited sale of liquor to addressees.

The government of Mexico City has placed a ban on sale of liquor in dance halls and has notified cabaret proprietors that they will go longer be allowed to employ waitresses.

And although leagues have been formed throughout Mexico among mothers, teachers, school children and workers and lectures on the evils of the drink habit are being given in theatres, the schools, union headquarters and other public assembly places.

Little Helps For This Week

“The Lord will give strength unto His people; the Lord will bless His people abundantly.”—Psalm 135: 11.

Lo! faster now lie spread the shades of night.

And upward shoot the trembling Suppliant we bend before the Lord And pray at early dawn—

That His sweet charity may all our sins Forgive, and make our merities to cease;

May grant us health, grant us the gift divine Of everlasting peace.

—Brevery (trans. by Edward Caswall)

There is indeed a peace on earth; it is not the peace of inaction, of prosperity. It is the peace of him who accepts the condition on which life is given, who gives himself for the conflict, who has a clear, strong faith that conflict is victory, and the last in earnest in the energy it calls forth of the perfection of his soul and the triumph of a higher world.

—William Ellery Channing.

The Singing Fool

SYNOPSIS

As gray dawn creeps over the New York skyscrapers, Martin the famous revue producer, is leaving the fashionable Plaza night club with a party of four. An actress companion suggests that they go to Blackie's club, where "the fun is just starting," and Marcus comments. At Blackie's shabby club the dancers are reviled at a "tag line" tender by Al Stone, Grace's lover and valet, and comedian who wenders who they are. Grace, the pretty cigarette girl, catches the name "Marcus," and begs the celebrated producer will do something to help Al, whom she adores tremendously.

CHAPTER II

As Al hurried toward the door leading to the bar, Grace speculated as to whether she could cut across and intercept him. But he was moving too fast and there were too many tables in between, she decided to wait until he returned, then she would drop a word as to Marcus' identity. It was necessary for Al to know that, so he could put everything possible into the coming scene, he would sing in a few moments.

Grace's sensitive young face was a study in devotion. Al Stone had been her best friend at Blackie's place. When she had taken the job of cigarette girl a few months before, the crowds, waiters, bar-tenders and performers frightened her, the rough-and-ready atmosphere of the place made her timidly draw into herself. Then it was that Al had put his hand kindly on her shoulder and looked down into her apprehensive brown eyes.

"Don't be scared, kid. Everybody's all right here. Two minutes later, Al had forgotten his words, but Grace treasured them and knew them by heart. She had promptly fallen in love with him. Al did not know this, no one knew it, not even Grace herself. She merely knew that the dark, gentle eyes of the young singing waiter, a quality she had never seen in the eyes of another man.

Now he was obscured for a moment as a chorus of dancing girls tripped across the floor. The chorus was agile, but that was all they could say. They were neither graceful nor beautiful. Marcus, the producer, the connoisseur of femininity, the despot who picked only the loveliest girls for his revue and rehearsed and polished them months until they were step-perfect—Marcus made no attempt to hide his disdain at this apology for entertainment. Grace's young eyes turned to the pretty actress at his table with a bored look that said only too plainly: "So this is what you brought me to see!"

Then Grace heard a voice behind her, a rough masculine voice.

"Hey, cigarette girl, come here." The young stout and carried her heaping tray of cigars and cigarettes to a nearby table. Three men, heavy-eyed and uncertain of speech, looked up into her face.

Had Diarrhoea

Bowels So Active Fearing For His Life

Mrs. S. J. Jago, Canby, N.B., writes: "My little boy, when three years old, had a severe attack of diarrhoea. The bowels were so active that he vomited so much, I feared for his life. I tried many medicines, but he was always going worse. A friend told me of and after the second dose I saw an improvement. I gave him almost half a bottle and he was completely relieved. I have used it for the other children, and my husband gives it to me. It gives great relief when I am sick.

and when he goes away from home he will keep him always takes a bottle with him."

"Want some—clg—cigarettes," said one of them. Grace frowned, but she did so, because aware that one of his companions had drawn his chair closer to her.

"Hey, you're a nice kid," suggested the second man, with a rapé expression on his face. "Do you know you're cute." I been watchin' you."

Grace smiled faintly, but ignored him otherwise, while she passed out the cigarettes to the three customers. That was what Blackie and Al had told her to do when the patrons became personal in their remarks—say nothing and attend to business.

As she leaned across this table to hand another pack of cigarettes to the third man of the party her skirts rose a little. Without looking she knew that one of the customers was looking her up and down. Their audacity she felt her other hand in his lightning grasp.

She straightened up sharply and tried to draw away. She knew she must make a move, for after all, she was only a night club cigarette girl, and the customers must be ignored a little.

At this moment, Al Stone, just about to turn the corner to the bar leading to the bar, shot a glance across the room and visualized Grace's predicament in a flash. At a moment he had veered across, while Grace gazed beseechingly into the drunken man's eyes and murmured, "Please let go."

Then Al looked at the man and stepped sharply on his side's foot. A cry of pain came from the customer and he released Grace to seize his aching toe. The girl caught Al's signal and made good her escape while the three snarled and stared up in bewilderment at Al's broad grin.

"Why did you step on my foot?" "Did I do that? I'm sorry."

Again the blond, but guileless grin from Al. Then he moved off, swiftly but not without a last look at his sleeve and looked down into Grace's wistful eyes.

"Al think you, Al," she murmured. The waiter patted her on the shoulder. "That's all right, Grace. Those things will happen. If they happen again, let me know. As Al glanced down at the diminutive Grace and his handsome face softened, as it always did when he recalled her. But in the feverishness of her dark eyes he saw only the grateful smile of someone he considered more a pet than a child. To him the marked evidence of acceleration in her breathing and the faint tremor of her warm and lovely little mouth were only her reaction to his. Nor did he see her head turn, as he moved away, while her eyes followed him adoringly.

Not until he disappeared and the throb of her heart swung back to normal did Grace recall that she had a message for Al. She hurried to the bar where the singing waiter reappeared with his four beers on a tray he did not head straight across the room. He turned at the entrance of the barroom entrance and glanced down a corridor. Through an open door, where he saw a good-looking blonde seated before a mirror in a tiny dressing room. She was studying her reflection in a self-satisfied way as she slowly and rhythmically brushed her lustrous golden hair. This was Molly Winter, the ballad singer at Blackie's club.

Al moved slowly toward the door as if drawn by a magnet, forgetting his order for a moment. His eyes lit up at the sight of Molly and with fascinated gaze he watched her while, rounded, raised arms protruding from her pink silk dressing gown as she slowly manipulated the hair brush.

Molly was undoubtedly a pretty girl and one of the favorites at Blackie's. Yet there was a hardness about her eyes and a petulance discernible at the corners of her mouth that boded no good for the man who would fall in love with her. Al, however, was blind to these defects.

As she moved her dressing room door she saw him, gave him one in-finite glance, then turned to the mirror again to rouge her shapely lips. At that moment, of studying her reflection, Molly, the heart-song singer, was gazing at the person she loved best!

Population of Calgary

Calgary's present population, as estimated by Henderson's directory office, is 102,470, an increase of 14,830 or 17 per cent over the estimated figure for the previous year.

Fancy a Frenchman learning the English language being told that already is all right but that alright is all wrong.

Takes Interest in People

Queen Mary Has Strong Sense Of Duty To Others

Through the kindness of her staff, when a recent visitor, as maid, wife and mother, Queen Mary has been winning the respect and admiration of the country by her goodness, her dignity, her sound judgment, and her practical kindness. Her mother bequeathed to her daughter that interest in humanity, that sense of duty to others, which have drawn her to understand the conditions under which they live. This has come to be recognized. One reader much of Queen Mary's thoroughness, culture, of her knowledge of art and of old furniture, her care for the treasures in the royal palaces; but when these things are half-forgotten people will talk of and hand down to their children the story of her deep interest in her poorer subjects, her practical suggestions for their comfort, her eagerness to help them, her courage, and perhaps more than all else her magnificent work during the war, when she shared with millions of women the anxieties of the mothers with sons at the front, and she bore in her heart the griefs of the forlorn and bereaved. Like the rest of the royal family, Queen Mary is a woman of the highest character and of the highest standards of conduct. She is a woman of the highest character and of the highest standards of conduct. She is a woman of the highest character and of the highest standards of conduct.

At this moment, Al Stone, just about to turn the corner to the bar leading to the bar, shot a glance across the room and visualized Grace's predicament in a flash. At a moment he had veered across, while Grace gazed beseechingly into the drunken man's eyes and murmured, "Please let go."

Not New Discovery

Early Notices Know About Vitamins

Vitamins are by no means a recent discovery as popularly supposed. Dr. C. M. Best, professor of physiology at the University of Toronto, at the annual meeting of the Canadian Public Health Association.

Dr. Best, noted for his work with the discovery of insulin, in reading a paper to the meeting, told how the natives of this country showed Jacques Cartier the use of vitamins as a cure for scurvy when on his second voyage one-third of his crew died of the disease. Further loss, he said, was prevented by the Indians who gave them spruce tea or white pine tea to drink. This natural remedy, rich in vitamins, is still used in Labrador for the cure of scurvy. Dr. Best said, Dr. James A. Poul, of John Hopkins University, Baltimore, and director of the John A. B. Foundation for Research on the common cold, said certain diseases, such as the common cold, are caused by a deficiency of vitamins. The general cause of the common cold is so far unknown.

A Good Definition

A class in a school in Scotland were having a history lesson. The teacher was reading to them an account of the Battle of Hamelburg. "And when the English saw the new army on the hill behind," he read, "they became discouraged."

"Now what is meant by 'discouraged their spirits'?" he asked one bright lad.

"Pittin water in their whiskey," came the prompt reply.

A Short Will

One of the shortest wills ever filed for probate has come to light in Philadelphia. It contains seven words: Joseph Haines and two companions were out hunting when Haines was stricken with a heart attack. On the back of a grocery man's slip he hastily scrawled in pencil, "I do give everything to my wife," and died shortly after. His estate was valued at $9,000.

Station Planes Cross

The landing of the French monoplane "Yellow Bird" in Spain brought to a total of 16 the number of times the Atlantic Ocean, north and south, has been crossed by heavier-than-air machines. Dirigibles have made the crossing five times.

Alberta Livestock Pool

The Alberta Livestock Pool now has 16,000 members, so A. B. Claypool, M.L.A., states. The Pool comprises 28 associations, scattered throughout the province.

"Strange that medicine didn't help you. Did you follow the directions?" "Yes, they said: 'Keep the bottle lightly corked.'"

The Nile and Congo Rivers of Africa have been connected by a motor race.

Old London Church

Synagogue Made Famous By Chas. Dickens Is In Danger Of Collapse

The church of St. George-the-Martyr, immortalized in "Little Nell" by Dickens, as "Little Dorrit's Church," is in danger of crumbling. It is London known St. George as "Little Dorrit."

Cracks nearly half a mile long have appeared in the walls and crypt. These are gradually widening until now the whole structure has been placed in danger.

The authorities threaten to condemn the building unless prompt action is taken to make it safe. The rector of the church has started a drive for $25,000 for repairs to save it.

"Little Dorrit's Church" was built in 1773 and was given its popular nickname because one of Dickens' characters often slept in the vestry with the church register as his pillow.

Upon the site of St. George-the-Martyr stood another church dating back to 1122 in the time of the Saxons. It is the oldest if not the oldest church in London.

Service For Plane Passengers

May Receive Market Reports and Musical Programs in Prediction

Aeroplane passengers of the future may expect to listen regularly to market reports, baseball scores, and musical programs if the prediction of W. P. McCracken, Jr., of Cleveland, assistant secretary of the American Society for Aeronautics, comes true.

"These programs could be tuned in right now, for that matter," Mr. McCracken indicates. In favorable weather the pilot of a properly equipped plane has no need of his radio apparatus.

McCracken predicts that great developments will be made along the line of the use of the airplane from ground to plane and from plane to ground.

DO NOT NEGLECT

YOUR LITTLE ONES

At no time of life is delay or neglect more serious than at childhood. The little one comes quickly and unless the mother is prompt in administering treatment a previous little ailment may be the forerunner of the mother realizes the baby is ill. It is the mother's duty to keep something in the medicine chest as a safeguard against the sudden illness of her little ones. Thousands of mothers have found that the use of Baby's Own Tablets and that is why they always keep a box of the Tablets on hand, which they always take care of.

Baby's Own Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which by regulating the bowels and stimulating the constitution and indigestion; break up colds, coughs and colds and promote healthy, natural sleep. Curing them, Mr. Isaac Smith, St. George's, Ont., writes: "I have been using Baby's Own Tablets ever since my little boy was born. I have found that they reach the spot and do more good than any other medicine I have ever tried. I have never seen the Tablets in the house and would advise all other mothers to do so. The Tablets are sold by medicine stores at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Who Shouldn't Be

Alie Lyman, the Hollywood jockey, who is playing at the Kit Kat Club in London, England, recently journeyed up to Scotland for the week-end. Returning from Glenageary to London, Lyman had no travelling companion in his compartment rather close-mouthed, well-dressed Scot. After an interminable number of stops at various stations, he found he took wrong more door and seldom than ever.

"It's a long, warlike journey," remarked Lyman, by way of making conversation.

The Scotman looked at him with an angry frown.

"Is it ought to be," he replied frigidly. "It cost fifty-nine shillings, nine pence!"

Evening Pil Balance

United States is growing fast on the manufacture of Canada's raw materials. Since United States has accepted a reciprocity of trade, Canada will have to retain some of that fat within her own boundaries by placing embargoes on the raw materials that will enforce their manufacture within the Dominion, and by establishing a reciprocity of tariff that will even up the trade balance between the two.

Why go to Peru?

When crude oil is so plentifully available here in North America, why does Imperial Oil Limited go 4000 miles to Peru for the crude from which Marvelube is made?

It is because Peruvian crude has lubrication properties which make it particularly desirable as a base for a superior motor oil.

That is why Marvelube is giving aircraft operators longer periods between engine overhauls and a greater margin of safety. Marvelube meets the needs of the modern high-speed motor, in the air or on the road, because its carbon-free and heat-resisting properties are created by Nature herself.

Let Marvelube give you the benefits of better lubrication. There is a grade of Marvelube refined to meet exactly the specifications of your car, truck or tractor. See the Marvelube Chart at Imperial Oil dealers and service stations.

It was still sleeping and she decided to have her supper before she "disturbed" it.
